

Home

Tab Chords And Lyrics

By Jack Johnson

Intro – D

D

I've gotta get home there's a garden to tend all the fruits on the ground

Em

The birds have all moved back into my attic --- whistling static

D

The young learn to fly I will patch up the holes once again

Well I can't believe that my lime tree is dead

Em

I thought it was sleeping I guess it got fed up with not being fed

D

And I would be too I keep food in my belly and hope that my time isn't soon

Em

And so I -- try to understand what I can't -- hold in my hand

G

A7

D

And whatever I find -- I'll find my way back to you

Em

And if you try to find it too 'cause this place is overgrown into waxing moon

G

A7

D

Home is wherever we are if there's love here too

D

Back of my house there's a trail that won't end we were walking so far that

Em

it grew back again now there's no trail at all only grass growing taller

D

Get out my machete and battle with time once again

Em

D

But I'm bound to lose 'cause I'll be damned if time don't win

I've gotta get home there's a garden to tend all the seeds from the fruits

Em

buried and begin their own family trees teach them thank you and please

D

Spread their own roots then watch their young fruit grow again

Em

D

And this old trail will lead me right back to where it began

(Repeat Ch and last line twice)