

It's All In Your Head Chords & Lyrics – By Diamond Rio

Intro – A

A

Momma died young giving birth to a son in a home for wayward girls
Daddy was sidewalk, soapbox preacher looking forward to the end of the world

D7

Every Friday night he'd pick a Jesus fight - Down at the local pool hall

A

Racking up souls condemning all those caught behind the eight ball

E

He said I preach for the light the light shows the way

A

Don't ever trust what the government say we never walked on the moon
- Elvis ain't dead You ain't going crazy - It's all in your head

Lucy was a messed up, dressed up waitress with a slightly tarnished heart of gold

She wasn't half bad for a new step momma as far as step momma's go

D7

Daddy knew she was the one as he baked in the sun in a parking lot preaching the truth

A

Up shot her hand and she cried, oh, man I feel it, yes, I feel it I do

E

It's been revealed to me down deep in my soul

There were two shooters on the grassy knoll

A

We never walked on the moon - Elvis ain't dead - You ain't going crazy -
It's all in your head -- Let us sing

D D7 A G D A

It's all interpretation - To find the truth you gotta read between the lines

D D7 A D A G

Work out your own salvation - That narrow path is hard to define

D

Heaven's more than a place it's a state of mind

Break – A-C-D-A

A

In his quest for truth Daddy was moved by the spirit to take up a snake
In a moment of doubt the venom turned out Stronger than daddy's faith

D7

But I'll never forget his dying breath the last words that he said

A G D7

We never walked on the moon - Elvis ain't dead - You ain't going crazy
It's all in your head --- let me tell ya

D D7 A G D A

It's all interpretation - To find the truth you gotta read between the lines

D D7 A D A G

Work out your own salvation - That narrow path is hard to define

D

A

Heaven's more than a place it's a state of mind - it's a state of mind

A-C-D-AA-C-D-A