

Lonesome Standard Time

Tab Chords And Lyrics

By Larry Cordle

Drop D tuning

D
Do you feel a kindred spirit, to the sound of pouring rain
A C
Does your heart start to yearning when you hear a distant train?
D G
If you'd like to take that train and ride, to someone left behind
D A D
You don't need the wind to tell you, you're on lonesome standard time

D
Do you sit alone and think about, an old love from the past?
A C
Do you feel a bit more empty every time you raise your glass?
D G
If the memory of her kisses sends a shiver up your spine
D A D
You don't need a watch to tell you, you're on lonesome standard time

G D
When you hear the little sad songs, do you hang on every word?
G A C
Do you swear a crying fiddle, has the sweetest sound on earth?
D G
If you shudder at the music -- of a hoot owl in the pines
C A7 D
You're on lonesome standard time

Break – G-D-G-A-C-D-G-C-A7-D

There's a bigger clock a-ticking, it crosses every zone
A C
The first time your old heart broke, was the time you turned it on
D G
It don't never need a-winding - cause if it works like mine

Well, there ain't no doubt about it, you're on lonesome standard time

When you hear the little sad songs, do you hang on every word?

Do you swear a crying fiddle, has the sweetest sound on earth?

If you shudder at the music -- of a hoot owl in the pines

You're on lonesome standard time

if you shudder at the music of - a hoedown in the pines

You're on lonesome standard time
