I sold the farm - to take my woman - where she longed to be

We left our kin - and all our friends back there in Tennessee

Then I bought those oneway tickets - she had often begged me for

And they took us to the streets of Baltimore

Well her heart was filled with gladness - when she saw those city lights

She said the prettiest place on earth - was Baltimore at night

Well a man feels proud to give his woman - what she's longing for

And I kind of liked - the streets of Baltimore

Yet every night when I came home - with every muscle sore

D D7 G
She would drag me through the streets of Baltimore

D G C G
Well I did my best - to bring her back - to what she used to be

But I soon learned she loved those bright lights much more than she loved me
