

The 20th Century Is Almost Over

Steve Goodman

Intro - G

Way Back in 1899 - when everybody sang auld lang syne

A hundred years - took a long long time - For every boy and girl

Now there's only one thing that i'd like to know - where did the 20th century go

I'd swear it was here just a minute ago - All over this world

And now The twentieth century is almost over - Almost over - almost over

The twentieth century is almost over - All over this world

All over this world - all over this world

Now The twentieth century is almost over - all over this world

Does anyone remember - the great depression - I read all about it - in true confessions

Sorry I was late for the recording sessions - but somebody put me on hold

Has anybody seen my linoleum floors - Petroleum jelly - and two world wars

They got stuck in the revolving doors - All over this world

Ch

Winter's getting colder - summer's getting hotter

Wishing well's wishing for another drop of water

Mother earth's blushin' cause somebody caught her making love to the man in the moon

How you gonna keep 'em down on the farm - now that outer space has lost its charm

D G

Somebody set off the burglar alarm and not a moment too soon

C G

And now The twentieth century is almost over - Almost over - almost over

D G

The twentieth century is almost over - All over this world

C G

All over this world - all over this world

D G

Now The twentieth century is almost over - all over this world

C G

Old father time has got his toes a tappin - Standin' in the window - grumblin' and a rappin'

D

Everybody's waiting - for something to happen - Tell me if it happens to you

G C G

The judgement day - is getting nearer - there it is in the rear view mirror

D G

If you duck down then I could see a little clearer - All over this world

Ch

C - G