Various

Intro - D

D                      G              A                      D
Scotsman clad in kilt left the bar one evening fair

   G                                      A
And one could tell by how he walked he'd drunk more than his share

            G                                      D                      A
He stumbled on until he could no longer keep his feet

                    D              A      D              G              A                      D
Then staggered off into the grass to sleep beside the street.

Later on two young and lovely girls just happened by

   G                                      A
And one says to the other with a twinkle in her eye

            G                                      D                                      A
You see yon sleeping Scotsman so strong and handsome built

            D      A      D              G              A                      D
I wonder if it's true what they don't wear beneath their kilt.
